ABOUT THIS REPORT

The company listings on the following pages are divided in to two categories:-

Liquidations, Administrations and Receiverships

These are companies to which Insolvency Practitioners have been appointed and they are listed alphabetically within business category. On the first line is the name of the company, the area of its' registered office and the principal nature of the business they were involved in. On the right hand side, an "L" indicates the company is in liquidation, an "A" indicates the company is in administration and an "R" indicates receivership. On the second line is the date the insolvency practitioner was appointed, followed by the practitioners contact details and website.

Winding-Up Petitions

This is a list of companies which have been served with Winding-up petitions. Companies appearing in these listings are not necessarily insolvent, although it may imply that the company is in some financial difficulty. Often the companies have defaulted on debts and creditors are asking the courts to wind them up in order to get paid.

The companies are listed alphabetically for easy reference. Following on from the company name is the area of the registered office, the date of the hearing, the court where the petition is to be heard. (HCJ for High Court of Justice) and the website of the petitioners solicitor.

If you wish to attend the hearing, you must give notice to the petitioners' solicitor - details of which will be available on the solicitors website. If no website is listed you can find this information on the Auction News website: www.auctionnews.co.uk. (Login, click on "Insolvencies", enter all or part of the company name, and in the insolvency type box select "Windup". The solicitors details can be found along with the rest of the windup details.)

Use this listing to check the credit-worthiness of customers, suppliers, prospects and competitors. Be wary of supplying goods or services to any company with a winding-up petition pending as many are eventually forced into liquidation, administration or receivership.
